Wilting U.S. Remains In Grip of Heat Wave

No General Relief Seen; Records Fall

More Hot and Humid Days Ahead; Business, Industry Slow Down

By The Associated Press

No general break in the summer season's longest and hottest heat wave appeared in sight today.

More hot and humid weather was the immediate outlook for sweltering millions from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic Coast There was no heavy rainfall in prospect for at least a couple of days—if not longer.

Death Toll Mounts

At least 23 deaths were attributed to the week-long spell of extreme weather. Hundreds of persons were overcome by the heat.

The oppressive weather also brought a slow-down in business and industry. Thousands of workers in offices and factories were sent home yesterday as the mercury edged toward the 100 degree mark.

Heat records for the date, as well as for the month of August, were broken in many cities. Temperatures in some sections of the swelter-belt have hit 95 or higher every day for the last week.

Many Records Set

The Weather Bureau reported readings of 90 or higher from all states east of the Rockies yesterday But the mercury soared above 100 in many places.

Many cities have had no heavy rainfall in weeks. Several have reported water shortages and use of water has been restricted

Some of the hottest spots yesterday Hagerstown, Md., 107, the highest reading in 23 years; Fredericksburg, Va., 106, top mark in 61 years; Gordonsville, Va , Portsmouth, Ohio, 105, Pierre, S D , and Presidio, Tex , 103; Richmond, Va , 102, Philadelphia, Louisville, Ky , Moline, Ill , Frederick Md , Bismarck, N D , 101

Big Cities Swelter

It was steaming weather in the nation's metropolitan areas Chicago baked under a blazing all-day sun with a record 99 New York's millions felt just as wilted although the mercury was a few degrees lower.

It was 100 in St Louis and Beloit, Wis ; 99 in Nashville, Tenn ; 98 in Kansas City,, Columbus, Ohio, Memphis, and Cincinnati, 97 in Boston Detroit, Indianapolis and Charlotte, N C A 54 year old

Some Sections Get Rain

Wind Topples Trees, TV Antennas in LaRue Area

A sudden windstorm and near cloudburst yesterday afternoon caused extensive damage in an area just north of LaRue, while in Marion there was only a slight breeze and just a trace of rainfall

In the LaRue vicinity, about four miles north of the community, trees were toppled, TV aerials were twisted, a silo was blown down, electric wires were down, and a slight damage was caused to homes as limbs struck them in the sudden storm which occurred about 2:30 and lasted about 15 minutes.

Strong wind and rain also blew down trees and broke limbs from trees in a portion of Morrow County, around Mt Gilead and Edison

Temperature Reaches 91

In Marion yesterday, the mercury reached a high of 91. A short shower around 10 a m. sent the thermometer down about seven degrees, but then it continued to rise again, surpassing 90 for the fifth straight day.

Low for the night was 68 degrees Rainfall totaling .02 of an inch was recorded at the local weather station, but in some sections of the storm area about three-quarters of an inch of rain fell.

Silo Blown Down

By 10 a m. today, the temperature was 87. A year ago a high of 94 was recorded with a low of 64.

On the L. E Adams farm, near LaRue trees were blown down, one of which was literally picked up, lifted across a fence and dropped across the road. A double corn crib and granary on the farm also was damaged extensively.

A large silo was blown down on the Lauren Holland farm and across the road on the Dean Liebold farm two large trees in the front yard were uprooted, striking a portion of the house as they fell. Part of the roof of the house on the Frazier sisters farm was blown off, the house on the Henry Thibaut farm was damaged when a falling tree struck it, and on the James Carey farm the machine shed roof was blown off, along with part of the hen house roof

The forecast for Wednesday is "mostly fair and continued hot with chance of scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers in the north portion of Ohio"

Showers May Provide Slight Break in Heat

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Weather Bureau last night offered some hope for Ohioans sweltering in the worst heat wave and drought of the summer

There is a chance of showers throughout the state, the bureau reported But, officially, the forecast was for 'continued hot and dry" weather.

Columbus got some relief last night from a thunder shower which eased temperatures in the high 90s, ended a seige of 14 rainless days and boosted the city's dwindling water supply A heavy but brief downpour at the Ohio State fair canceled a performance of "The 17th Star" Daytime showers also eased the heat in Marion and Youngstown

The rest of the state suffered In Portsmouth the mercury hit 105 after reaching 103 Sunday Lancaster sweated out its third consecutive day of 100 degree temperature and Cambridge its fourth

The heat wave shot temperatures to 99 in Cleveland, making it the hottest day of the summer and the hottest Aug. 31 in the city's history.

Montgomery and Butler counties as well as Springfield were faced with a critical water shortage.

'Y' Dedication Put Back, New Date To Be Set

The dedication ceremony for the new YMCA building, scheduled Sept 13, was postponed indefinitely yesterday by the dedication committee

The delay was caused by the necessity of replacing the gymnasium floors, which were rejected by the architect, Arthur Haas, YMCA secretary reported.

He said the delay in the dedication would be ironed out by next week and a new date for the ceremony set The delay forced the cancellation of the speech by Dr Arthur Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization and president on leave of Ohio Wesleyan University

Dr Flemming notified the board that he would be unable to make an appearance here on any other date but Sept 13 until the end of October

Haas said another meeting of the committee would be held Monday to set a final date and try to select another speaker for the event

Many GI's Still Held

POW Exchange Enters Fifth Week, May Be Last

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Korean War prisoner exchange moved into its fifth and possibly last week today with 100 more Americans returning to freedom from North Korean prison camps.

The Communists promised to hand back another 100 Americans tomorrow, as well as 200 South Koreans for a total of 300—the smallest daily total since the dramatic swap started 28 days ago

Besides the 100 Americans 25 British, 20 Turks, 5 Australians and 250 South Koreans returned to freedom Tuesday

High-Ranking Officers

Riding happily into Panmunjom on open trucks today were two high-ranking Allied officers, both with many months of Red captivity behind them.

One was Lt. Col. James P. Carne, commander of the 1st Battalion of Britain's gallant Gloucestershire Regiment, which was all but wiped out when cut off in the Imjin River battle in April 1951.

Carne, puffing a pipe, hopped off a Red truck and told Allied officers who greeted him, "It feels great to be back"

American Officer

The other top-ranking repatriate was an American, Lt Col. Paul V Liles, a West Pointer who spent almost three years as a prisoner.

He told a grim tale of systematic Communist pressure on prisoners to make them sign confessions and make propaganda broadcasts. He said he and a group of prisoners who had been nearly starved to death were forced by the Reds to broadcast over Pyongyang radio

New Russian Atomic Blast Is Announced

Explosion Powerful But Not an H-Bomb, U.S. Experts Believe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has produced another atomic explosion, the government announced last night, and evidence thus far available to U. S experts indicates it was not a hydrogen blast though perhaps of considerable power

The date was Aug 23, the Atomic Energy Commission statement said, and "the explosion was in the same range of energy release as our recent Nevada tests, and would appear to be part of a series"

"If this proves to be the fact," the commission added, "no further announcement will be made unless intelligence indicates information of greater interest"

There were blasts of varying power in the 11-shot series which the United States conducted last spring at its proving ground in the Nevada desert, and to which the AEC compared the latest Russian effort.

Largest in U. S.

The last one, on June 4 was generally described as the largest atomic explosion ever to be set off in the United States proper It was estimated to be the equivalent of 50,000 tons of TNT

Effects of the U. S blast June 4 were seen or felt up to 500 miles from the test site

This was the second U. S disclosure in less than two weeks that the Russians had produced an atomic explosion The earlier one on Aug. 19, seven days after it occurred, gave a measure of official American confirmation to Moscow's claim that Russian scientists had touched off a type of hydrogen bomb

The AEC said then there was evidence of both fission and thermonuclear reactions, the latter being a scientific term for the intense heat produced in the fusion process of the hydrogen bomb.

Fission Explosion

Last night's announcement spoke only of "a fission explosion . . . in Russian territory." Conventional A-bombs made from uranium employ the fission, or atom-splitting, process.

There was no immediate word from Moscow on the latest test, unlike the situation following the explosion of Aug 12. Then the Moscow paper Pravda first broke the news to the world and the official United States announcement followed a few hours later.

In addition to the two Russian blasts last month, the United States has announced that it detected three others. It has never said categorically, however whether it disclosed all the explosions it detected.

The dates of the previous announcements, all made shortly after the actual explosions, were Sept. 23, 1949, Oct. 3, 1951, and Oct 22, 1951.

The exact method used in detection is secret, but it is known to include among other factors the sampling of the upper air for the radioactivity produced by any atomic explosion.

Special Issues Approved by Election Board

Four additional special issues were accepted last night by the Marion County Board of Elections for placement on the November ballots

They include the question "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?" and for the election of members of the commission

Election board officials reported today that they will accept nominating petitions for candidates for charter commission membership until Sept. 23

Second issue accepted last night was the three-fourths mill levy to provide funds for the operation of the city sewage plant This levy, if approved in November, would appear on the tax duplicates for five years.

A two-mill levy to run for five years and provide for current operating expenses of the Claridon Local School District was the third special item approved by the board.

Fourth item accepted was the $83,000 bond issue to run for 20 years at 1 71 mills for the Grand Prairie Local School District. Money from this bond issue would be used to construct a fireproof addition to the school

Deadline for filing special issues for appearance on the November ballots is Sept. 15.

STOCK MARKET STEADIES

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held steady today after a six-day decline that plunged it to a new low for the year.

West Fears Difficulty On Peace Parley Site

TEXAS GETS THE RAIN IT ASKED FOR. Two men wade in hip-deep water toward their home in Robstown, Texas, where some 2,000 persons have been driven from their homes by high water caused by continuing heavy rains. Approximately 2,500 people have been evacuated from the Robstown-Sinton area of South Texas. Because the land is quite level there is no force to runoff waters and damage is limited to the soaking effect of the water.

New Delays Threatening Korea Talks

Reds Viewed Likely To Reject First U.N. Choice Unless in Asia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western diplomats today forecast new troubles with the Communists over selection of the time and place for a Korean peace conference.

These diplomats said it was virtually certain Communist China and North Korea would reject whatever site and date the United Nations' side first proposes.

Geneva was regarded as the most likely U. N. choice for the spot and Oct. 15 for the date. Under terms of the Korean armistice agreement, the conference must begin by Oct. 28.

Far From Certain

Geneva's selection seemed far from certain, however. A move to pick a Far Eastern site was reported under way by some diplomats on the ground the Communists would never consent to go to Europe to discuss Asia's problems.

South Korea's ambassador to the United States, Dr. You Chan Yang, gave new notice his government will not agree to any conference in India, Ceylon or Indonesia.

Yang predicted in an interview that the Communists would counter with one of these three places, and said they are "absolutely unacceptable" to South Korea.

Dulles Calls Meeting

Secretary of State Dulles, representing the United States, arranged to meet at the State Department today with diplomats from America's 15 Korean War allies who are U N. members to consider the issue.

South Korea was not invited to this initial meeting since it is not a U N. member. But the U. N. delegates were expected to invite a Korean representative to sit in almost immediately since the U N General Assembly formally designated South Korea as one of its representatives in the talks with the Communists.

Suggests 'Frisco

Ambassador Yang, who probably will represent South Korea along with Foreign Minister Yung Tai Pyun, suggested San Francisco as the conference site.

'Since it is the seat of the birth of the U. N , it would be an ideal place for my government," he said He added that South Korea has no objections to Geneva.

U.N. Ordered To Hire Back 4 U.S. Citizens

High Tribunal Rules Seven Others Entitled To $122,500 Damages

UNITED NATIONS, N Y. (AP)—A United Nations high tribunal ordered the U. N today to restore jobs to four employes and pay damages totaling $122,500 to seven others

All of them American citizens, they were fired because they refused to answer U. S. government questions about alleged Communist ties.

Backs 5th Amendment

The four-member International Board, highest appeals court for the U. N staff, held for an employe to invoke the U. S. Fifth amendment in refusing to answer such questions did not violate any U. N. staff rules

But the tribunal upheld the firing of nine others—seven involved in Communist inquiries and two for non-political reasons—because they were "temporary - indefinite" employes whom the U. N. secretary general could dismiss if he thought such action was in the interests of the international organization.

10 Permanent Employes

Ten of the 11 granted reinstatement or damages had so-called permanent contracts of employment

The 11th employe, Ruth Crawford, former information officer for the U. N. International Children's Emergency Fund, had admitted a year's membership in the Communist party, terminating in 1936, but was fired by former Secretary General Trygve Lie because she refused to tell the Senate internal security subcommittee who invited her to join the party in 1935.

The appeal of still another "permanent" employe, Eugene Wallach, a language services stenotypist, was referred back to the staff joint appeals board for another hearing. He had appeared before a federal grand jury investigating subversion The U. N in announcing his firing said he had not given a complete account of former employment as required by U N regulations.

Damages Awarded

Of the 11 employes in whose favor it decided, the tribunal ordered four reinstated in their jobs, money damages of $7,000 to $40,000 to six others who do not want to go back to work for the U. N., and $10,000 damages and salary until her pension begins in 1955 to Jane Redd, 58 - year - old library staff worker

They awarded the largest damages—$40,000—to Jack S. Harris, 41, former trusteeship division expert on Africa and a U. S Army OSS agent during the war. He formerly was an anthropology in-

440 Traffic Fatalities Forecast Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimates that 440 persons will be killed in traffic accidents in the United States over the Labor Day weekend

The council expects a record 40 million vehicles on the highways during the period from 6 p m next Friday until midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

Deluge Over, Flood Danger Eases in Texas

ROBSTOWN Tex. (AP)—Flood dangers subsided with receding water today but threats of disease lingered after 10 days of south Texas cloudbursts.

Thousands forced them from their homes remained in emergency shelters again last night as health authorities gave typhoid inoculations and warned residents of this wide Gulf Coast area near Corpus Christi to boil drinking water

Yesterday was the first day since last Thursday that heavy downpours skipped this flood - plagued city and nearby Sinton More than 2,500 were chased from their homes during the downpours

Robstown city officials said it would be some time before the city is free of flood waters. A lake almost three miles wide circled the greatest part of the city's outskirts The main residential district and the business district was slowly drying out last night.

Health officials said that since flood waters covered about 1 000 pit privies in the town's outskirts that all flood water must be assumed to be contaminated.

Mayor Dudley Dunlap of Robstown said no damage estimate was available.

Boy of 9 Becomes 23rd Polio Victim

Marion County's 23rd victim of polio was reported today by Dr M M Weinbaum, city health commissioner.

Latest patient is nine-year-old James Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ford of 949 Woodrow Ave The boy was taken to Children's Hospital in Columbus on Sunday and the case confirmed as bulbar polio Monday afternoon. He had been ill since Thursday.

The family was quarantined and a sister, Eleanor, has been given gamma globulin shots.

This is the 15th case of the disease reported this year by the city health department Eight more have been reported by county authorities

Big Attendance Increases Hope Of Paying Fair

State Exposition May Wind Up Out of Red If Crowds Still Hold Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Officials of the Ohio State Fair were hoping today a continuation of record-breaking crowds would put the sesquicentennial fair in the black. In the past, state fairs have usually lost money.

They were hoping for another big crowd today, the fifth day of the fair.

Treasurer R. C. Caley reported admissions through Sunday — including the gate, "The 17th Star" pageant, the horse show, harness races, and the cat show—totaled $168,631, compared with $133,379 for the same days last year.

New Record Set

Another attendance record was set yesterday—52,000 beating last year's record-breaking Monday by 12,000. However, a brief downpour forced cancellation of last night's performance of "The 17th Star," and money was refunded to a sell-out crowd of 10,000

The high temperatures have ranged from 94 to 100 degrees since the fair opened, and more sunny, hot days were in prospect

Today is County Commissioners' and Trustees' day The program includes livestock judging, harness racing, the horse show, and "The 17th Star"

New Jersey Cow Wins

Yesterday a 2-year-old cow from New Jersey won the first All-American Swiss Futurity ever held in the United States.

The winner of the $500 first prize was Lee's Hill Rachel M, owned by Lee's Hill Farm of New Vernon, N J. Fair Manager Howard S Foust announced he was considering bringing Broadway musicals to future fairs

Walkout Set Sept. 10

Federal Mediators Fight To Head Off Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government stepped in today to try to head off a railroad strike planned for Sept 10, possibly the first of a series of forthcoming rail walkout threats.

Today's meeting called by the National Mediation Board concerns only a dispute between the carriers and the Conductors Union, but all the major rail unions are drawing up new demands.

Seek New Schedule

The 35,000 member Conductors Union scheduled its walkout Sept. 10 over a long-standing demand for pay rates graduated according to the power of locomotives on trains the conductors man

Engineers and firemen already have such a pay system

The mediation board called in representatives of the union and of railroad associations to try to get the strike called off pending efforts to work out a solution.

Meanwhile, nearly a score of other rail unions are planning to make new demands for pay raises and other benefits.

Under Moratorium

Practically all the unions have been under a moratorium against making new labor cost demands on the carriers This ban, which under previous agreements has applied to some workers for nearly three years, expires Oct. 1.

The conductors contend their contract allows negotiation on their graduated pay rate demand despite the moratorium but the carriers disagree and have declined to negotiate on the issue

Some indication that the unions are angling for a fat settlement this fall came from the Brother-

Ann Sothern Is Model Secretary on Television

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Secretaries who want to get ahead could take a few pointers from Ann Sothern, who plays the role of a private secretary on television.

Blonde Ann, who doesn't know one end of a typewriter from the other, manages to give the impression of the perfectly groomed, pretty office manager, who twists her boss around her little finger but always maintains the proper decorous and respectful attitude.

In any office crisis, it is Ann who saves the day, accepting the fervent thanks of the boss with modesty and tongue only slightly in cheek.

This expert comedienne, who came to TV via stage and screen breezed into New York the other day to shop for a wardrobe for her next TV stint of 28 programs in the secretarial role. Said she:

"Since the program started, I've worn only clothes that a secretary could afford. That's what I'm buying now. I won't pay more than $25 to $50 for any office outfit. For real bang-up glamor for after-office wear I'll stretch the budget maybe to $75 or $100."

Ann buys four or five basic dresses, then sets them off with accessories such as different collors, cuffs, belts and costume jewelry.

On this trip she bought a light navy coat dress, plain but well fitted, which can be worn with a big petticoat.

Favorite item in Ann's wardrobe is a navy blue jumper, of which she says fondly:

"I've worn it in four shows, and I expect to wear it in that many more, always with different blouses and accessories."

Ann checked with all her secretary friends in an around the studio before she took on the TV role to find out just how a private secretary is supposed to act. Occasionally she still hits the wrong gadget on an adding machine, or doesn't hit the space bar on the typewriter at the right time—and then the mail pours in from girls pointing out her mistake.

"It's really quite a responsibility, playing this part just right," she says, "because there are so many secretaries, and so many wives whose husbands have secretaries I have to be careful never to get too familiar with the boss, so as not to alarm the wives looking in."

Ann was born Harriette Lake in Valley City, N. D. She was educated as a musician and composer, and discovered by a Broadway talent scout. She played in a number of hit musicals — "America's Sweetheart" and "Of Thee I Sing" for example. Then she went to Hollywood, soon rose to stardom, and appeared in such film successes as "Panama Hattie," "As Thousands Cheer" and "Lady Be Good."

Colorado Trout Rise For President's Bait

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Fish in St. Louis Creek got their first chance yesterday to nibble at presidential bait—and it proved fatal.

President Eisenhower fished the creek for the first time since he arrived at his vacation ranch last Thursday. He snagged a trout on his first cast and his luck continued good, aides reported. A sore elbow which he bruised before leaving Washington early this month had kept him from fishing.

The President planned to tempt the trout again today.

Barrage of Bibles Over Iron Curtain Awaits Final OK

BONN, Germany (AP) — A U. S. High Commission official denied Monday that the State Department had refused a church group permission to launch a barrage of Bible-laden balloons over Iron Curtain countries.

The Rev. Dr. Carl McIntire of Collingswood, N. J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches, charged in Amsterdam yesterday that the State Department had refused permission to float the Bibles from the U. S. occupied zone of Germany. The head of the Protestant organization wired President Eisenhower for "assistance."

Alfred V. Boerner, public affairs director for the High Commission, said, "actually, the council needs only clearance by German authorities. The only question is whether the State Department should intervene in helping the council obtain such German clearance."

He said the department had been asked its attitude and a reply was awaited.

May Settle for 4 Per Cent

Tax Compromise Sought On Corporation Incomes

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) said today that Congress may compromise on a cut of about 4 per cent in corporation income taxes on April 1.

Any such compromise, he indicated, would be part of a program aimed at averting bitter tax clashes between the Eisenhower administration and some key Republicans in Congress, such as flared during the past session.

Under present laws, corporation income taxes are due to drop automatically on April 1 from 52 percentage points to 47 on a corporation's taxable income—which would mean that a corporation's tax bill would be lowered by about 10 per cent. That would cost about two billion dollars annually in revenue at a time when the administration is struggling toward a balanced budget.

For example, a corporation making $100,000 profit under the present rate would pay $52,000 tax. Under the lower rate it would pay $47,600. This would be $5,000, or nearly 10 per cent, less.

President Eisenhower has urged indefinite postponement of the cut, but the request is sure to stir a fight in Congress.

Simpson, third-ranking Republican member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said the final result may be to fix the rate at 50 percentage points—roughly splitting the difference between the administration and supporters of the full reduction scheduled. Such a result would lower a corporation's tax bill by about 4 per cent.

Simpson said in an interview this might produce enough revenue to lower a corporation's tax bill by about 4 per cent.

Simpson said in an interview this might produce enough revenue to balance the budget if the administration, as some congressmen predict, also calls for a broader and more uniform system of excise (sales) taxes.

Eisenhower, in a tax message to Congress last May, said that although the 52 per cent corporate rate is "too high for the long run, the budget will not now permit a reduction in both individual and regular corporate tax rates. A reduction in individual taxes must come first, for the benefit of the entire economy."

The administration has said it will let a 10 per cent cut for individual income tax payers take effect as scheduled on Jan. 1. The excess profits tax also dies on the same date, complicating the drive to keep revenue high enough for pay-as-you-go federal spending.

Postponement of any corporate income tax cut would just about balance out the loss in revenue from the excess profits tax.

Three Drivers Charged With Traffic Violations

Youngstown Police Chief Renews War On Obscene Books

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief Edward J. Allen has started another round of his war on smutty books by arresting book distributor Bernard Bloch.

Bloch, president of the Mahoning Valley Distributing Agency, was charged with distributing for sale a book "of obscene and immoral nature." The book, purchased by a vice squad member in a downtown drug store was a paper-back copy of Leonard Bishops' "Down All Your Streets." Streets."

Bloch pleaded innocent, was released on $300 bond, and will appear Sept. 21 at a hearing.

Three Juveniles Cited For Traffic Violations

Three juveniles were cited to appear before juvenile authorities over the week end. All have been charged with traffic violations.

A 14-year-old Marion County youth was arrested Saturday morning and charged with operating his motor bike without an operator's license.

On Sunday, a 17-year-old Marion boy was cited to appear to answer a charge of reckless operation of a motor vehicle.

At 1:05 Monday afternoon, another 14-year-old boy was stopped and cited to appear in Juvenile Court on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

No Climatic Apology

This serves notice on bright-eyed posterity not to scan the weather records for proof that things are getting more dramatic than they used to be in the old days — 1953 and thereabouts.

When it comes to heat, we've the most, to say the least — here and now, in 1953. Posterity will get no hotter than we've been. It will get no more parched than we've been.

Moreover, thinking back a few years to that stem-winder of a winter when the snow was up to here for weeks at a time and the temperature lurked sullenly below zero for days at a time, we're offering ten to one posterity will get no colder or snowier than we've been, either.

In the mood of black despair that seizes all of us sometimes, we doubt there's going to be anything memorable about our era except the mess we made of things. But there is no need for climatic apology.

We've been more miserable, meteorologically speaking, than anybody else on record. When it's dry, it's dryer; when it's wet, it's wetter; when it's hot, it's hotter; when it's cold, it's colder. They can't take these things away from us.

Heroes Are Made

As it turned out in 1952, after Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen of the good ship Flying Enterprise had stayed aboard his sinking ship from Dec. 29 to Jan. 10, the courageous captain's tenacity was appreciated. He was in a Broadway parade.

But as it turns out in 1953, Capt. Carlsen had a stronger motive for being tenacious than to ride down Broadway.

The facts are still obscure and will remain that way. But one of them now is vivid and clear. Something of sufficient value to justify a costly and highly specialized salvage operation was aboard the Enterprise.

More than $200,000 in bank notes already has been recovered from the wreckage, but that would be only the beginning in a salvage operation of the magnitude necessary to recover cargo from a sunken ship lying in 250 feet of water.

Capt. Carlsen had a good reason for his heroic refusal to abandon his ship. Once abandoned, the ship could be salvaged by anyone willing and able to tackle the job. As the man says, "heroes are made, not born."

Card of Sympathy

Republicans are finding no satisfaction in the Chicago travails of the opposition. The squabbling which has broken out over the arrangements for the Democratic pep meeting in Chicago Sept. 14 and 15 reminds the Republicans that their opponents now are undergoing the same pulling and hauling for internal control that plagued the GOP after it lost the election in 1932.

It also reminds Democrats that the only thing which held their coalition together from 1933 on was the fact they were in power and could not afford to fall apart. And it reminds thoughtful voters of both parties that the built-in tendency of party organizations to fight harder for internal control than for victory over the opposition is a continuous challenge to the two-party system's right to survive

There were times after the election fiasco of 1936 when the Republican party's ability to withstand internal friction long enough to win another national election was in serious question There were times when it looked as if the two-party system might go the way of the dodo bird.

The Democrats, no longer a coalition glued together by common interests, now must take its turn at withstanding the forces of political disintegration.

A New Gold Rush

There's nothing new under the sun, but the combinations of things that are old create endless new patterns.

Take gold, trade not aid, empire-building and catching flies with sugar. All these are time-worn elements. Out of the combination may emerge something so startlingly new in the next few months that it will be unprecedented.

The Soviet Union is known to have a massive accumulation of gold. Its hoard of the precious metal cost it practically nothing; most of it was mined by prisoners.

The Soviet Union may offer payments in gold for manufactured articles produced in countries which have been asking the United States for trade not aid and which have been getting, instead, vague promises to see what can be done.

In this way, the Soviet Union may broaden the empire it is building. It may convince its potential enemies that the Kremlin has ceased to be warlike. It may do what it has seemed to be on the verge of doing several times since Stalin's death — start catching flies with sugar.

Two magazine articles, one by John Fischer in Harper's, the other a Fortune report of interest in reviving the convertibility of foreign currency to gold in the United States, both suggest the forthcoming change. Fischer believes the Soviet Union's "golden ace in the hole" may cause a major change in the foreign policy of the United States. Fortune evidently sees a major change in economic policy.

Dollar Gains Prestige

Taft Predicted Sound Federal Financing by 1954

While Sen. Taft did not agree with some of the policies of the Eisenhower administrauon a hitherto unpublished letter shows that the Ohio senator felt complete confidence that government finances would be put on a sound basis beginning July 1, 1954.

On May 7, 1953 — when serious illness was already beginning to keep the Ohio senator away from his work — he wrote to Charles H. Keinath of Newark, Ohio, as follows:

"I have your recent letter indicating your concern and criticism of the new administration, and I have read with interest your analysis of the present situation in Washington.

"The new administration has appointed to office men with limited experience in government but wide experience in business. These men have been shocked at the conditions they have found. The Truman administration was made up of people who believed that government spending was a good thing in itself, and there never has been an organization in the history of the world where there was such an uncontrolled and uneconomic spending. The officials of the Eisenhower administration have undertaken seriously to reduce their departments to a business basis.

"Furthermore, the government is bound by many commitments which cannot be terminated over night. More than $80 billion of appropriations from past years will be unspent on July 1, 1953, to which the Truman administration added a request for further appropriations of $73 billion.

"It is a difficult and complicated job to find out how far we are burdened by the acts of the past administration. We cannot possibly expect to operate during the fiscal year 1954 at the level which this administration itself would have fixed if it had been in control.

"The Eisenhower administration will not have a really free hand until the year which begins July 1, 1954.

"I cannot in this letter discuss all the single criticisms which have been pointed to the Eisenhower administration. However there can be no doubt about the sincerity of their efforts, and the public will have to remember that progress is necessarily slow, because they have taken over a tremendous job.

"The federal government is ten times the size of the government in 1933 which is the last time there was a complete change in administration."

It is known that Sen. Taft had the highest admiration for George Humphrey, now secretary of the Treasury, and it is an interesting coincidence that the prophecy in the letter to Mr. Keinath should, just four months later, begin to be fulfilled.

Mr. Humphrey is just now giving the country the best news it has had on the fiscal situation since the Eisenhower administration took office.

The Treasury says now that the budget for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1954, will not have the deficit of $9.9 billions which President Truman formally predicted in his last message to Congress on the subject but that it will be even less than the $6.6 billions which President Eisenhower forecast three months ago.

The latest deficit figure given by Secretary Humphrey is $3.8 billions.

This means that progress is really being made toward a balanced budget.

A $3.8-billion deficit for the fiscal year ending next July should be compared with the $9.4-billion deficit which ended the fiscal year 1953, for the greater part of which the Truman administration was responsible.

Indeed, on the basis of outgo versus income on a purely cash basis, as differentiated from authorizations or appropriations —actual money used — the budget will be nearly in balance on July 1 next.

It is estimated now that the federal government will take in just half a billion dollars less in cash than it spends, so the debt will be increased very little and there is a bare chance that increased tax receipts may bring the budget into balance.

The meaning of this in terms of the next fiscal year — which begins July 1, 1954, and ends June 30, 1955 — is that an over-all balance may be in sight notwithstanding the tax reductions which have been promised by law to corporations on April 1 next, when the straight income-tax rate comes down from 52 to 47 per cent, and the excess-profits tax will have been eliminated altogether.

As Sen. Taft wrote in his letter, it is in the fiscal year which begins ten months from now — on July 1, 1954 — that the Eisenhower administration aims to balance the budget.

The news from Mr. Humphrey's office on how things are progressing this year certainly encourages hopes for a good budgetary situation for the next fiscal year.

It will make for a sounder dollar in this country and give it greater prestige throughout the world.

Shocking Information

By TRUMAN TWILL

Even though I don't bruise easily, these things shock me:

Grandmotherly females dressed in little - girl outfits in the good old summertime;

Gross errors in spelling and grammar in letters written by people who put on educational airs;

A rumor that the Department of Justice may prosecute U.S. prisoners of war who went into the tank for their Communist captors;

The gross carelessness of a sizeable minority of automobile drivers after a generation of intensive education in how not to commit murder on the highways;

The extreme materialism of many of the Americans who do the most talking about the American way of life, which is largely idealistic;

Recurrent reports of ideological funny business in labor unions which can close down some of the most-sensitive centers of United States security;

The tendency to jump all over farmers for claiming they have a right to do some of the things which have been done by industry so long no one even thinks twice about them any more, such as cutting the production ticket when surpluses pile up;

Bad feeling between factions inside the same political party, as between the forward marchers and backward lookers, for example;

The growing habit of thinking about everything in terms of what would be desirable, to the exclusion of thinking about what is feasible;

The use of the telephone to do ear-to-ear selling, a practice causing many subscribers to question the necessity of paying for telephone service;

Addition of more and more horsepower to automotive vehicles which are going to be operated by drivers with no additional brain power;

The practice of magnifying one minor point in an hour-long speech to make it appear that nothing else of any consequence was mentioned;

Substitution of fear for confidence as the compelling motive for every major policy of the U.S. government;

Truman Motive Worries Party Givers

By Allen Drury

The big question mark when the Democrats meet in Chicago this month is likely to be Harry S. Truman.

Although the gathering of 2,000 party faithful in the midwestern metropolis on September 14-15 has been billed as a formal welcome-home for Adlai Stevenson and possibly a first step toward another presidential nomination, signs are multiplying that the ex-President rather than the ex-governor may dominate the parley.

The results could have profound effects on the future of the Democratic party.

As originally planned, the Chicago conference was to furnish the setting for Stevenson's triumphal re-entry into political life after his six-month global tour. It also was to mark his assumption of firm control over the party machinery.

In line with this, his friends at national committee headquarters made their arrangements in such a way that Stevenson would be prominently featured while his potential rivals would be minimized.

The schedule was organized to include a Stevenson appearance at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner on the night of September 14 and a major Stevenson speech under the auspices of a "bipartisan civic committee" in the Chicago Opera House the following night.

There also were plans to keep Stevenson quietly but handily accessible in his hotel room for private conferences with all who wished to see him.

Everything, in short, was designed to keep the spotlight focused on Stevenson, a fact which caused some grumbling and discontent among the friends of other contenders. But nobody quite knew what to do about it.

Now, although the physical arrangements remain the same, a new factor has been added.

Since one of the principal announced aims of the conference is to promote a show of party harmony, it began to occur to the arrangers of the event that, after all, they couldn't completely ignore the most recent Democratic President.

With some misgivings, but aware there wasn't any help for it, they accordingly extended a formal invitation to Mr. Truman. He accepted so fast that it made everybody's head swim, and overnight Stevenson was presented with the same old problem he never successfully solved in the 1952 campaign.

The fear of his friends is understandable, firmly grounded in recent history: that once more it can be made to appear to the public that Truman is running the show — and that once more Stevenson is going to be hard put to it to keep from being overshadowed and outshouted by the ex-President.

They fear this even though Truman no longer has the White House as a sounding board. They know he is a tough and resourceful fighter with a love for rough-and-tumble politics. Much as they admire Stevenson's many fine qualities, they know he has neither Truman's zest nor his love for the game.

Nor is it only on the score of his effect on Stevenson's position that many Democratic leaders are wary of Truman. They also are worried about the carefuly developed record of the Democratic party as a constructive opposition force.

With a shrewd intelligence the Democrats in Congress, and Stevenson himself, have in general avoided any direct attacks on the Eisenhower administration.

They have figured accurately that their best bet in the face of the President's overwhelming popularity would be to conduct a quiet and conservative opposition without name-calling and mud-slinging.

Until now, Truman has seemed to go along with this idea, but he has said repeatedly that the time will come when he will speak out.

With considerable uneasiness, many party leaders are awaiting his appearance in Chicago. They figure he may think this is the time, and they definitely don't. But how to stop him if he chooses?

If the wraps come off and Truman lets go with a haymaker at the new administration, party strategists believe this will ruin all the good work done by the Democrats in Congress in the recent session.

They feel it will put the Democratic party instantly in a position of carping and vindictive criticism which will simply unite the public behind President Eisenhower.

It will of course make a very sour preliminary for what will undoubtedly be another light and graceful presentation by Stevenson.

Furthermore, if Truman goes to Chicago in a mood to make that kind of speech, it will also bode ill for any hopes Stevenson may have of automatically taking control of the party. Truman has disclosed a continuing interest in Frank McKinney of Indiana, who was his appointee as national chairman until Stevenson won the nomination last year and, with it, the right to install his own man, Chicago lawyer Stephen Mitchell.

On his recent motor trip East, Truman stayed twice with McKinney, and he has already announced that he will speak at a testimonial dinner for McKinney to be held in Indianapolis October 10.

There is some evidence to support the belief that Truman would like to see McKinney returned to the chairmanship when the national committee meets in Chicago; and in this, of course, he would find allies readily available among the supporters of other presidential hopefuls who feel that Mitchell is simply a stalking-horse for Stevenson.

Mitchell's position may be made difficult by the fact that he has already been in a dispute with Chicago Democratic leader John J. Kelly Sr., general chairman of the fund-raising dinner. Kelly resigned in a huff Friday because Mitchell chose Sen. Gillette as toastmaster for the banquet. Kelly reportedly wanted the job for himself and resented Mitchell's interference.

All in all, Truman could prove quite a problem for party managers who had hoped to make of the Chicago conference a nice, quiet, well-behaved gathering in which everybody would speak softly about President Eisenhower and unanimous hero worship about Stevenson.

It won't be quite as moonlight-and-roses as all that, now that Truman is looming steadily larger in the proceedings.

The problem of the Democratic managers may best be summed up, perhaps, in the paraphrase of the famous World War I song: How're you going to keep him down on the farm, after he's seen D.C.?

When the man involved is Harry S. Truman, the answer seems to be: You can't.

Some Americans may become jealous to learn of the spreading fame of a Netherlander, Wim Klein, who has been going about Europe (the uncurtained part of course) demonstrating his skills in mental arithmetic.

He went to England the other day, and did his stuff at a meeting of British mathematicians and electronics experts—themselves no slouches in computing figures in their heads. He amazed them, and Dr. D. B. Bowden, chief of the "electronic brain" asserted the Dutchman was "nine times faster than an adding machine."

One sample: In five seconds, via brain power and minus a pencil, he multiplied 854,726 by 395,627. It took a computing machine lots longer. The average person wouldn't even attempt it, of course.

It is a dazing treat to watch a trained bank teller or accountant almost literally "run up" a column of multi-digit numbers and announce a total while an onlooker is (dare one say) figuratively rolling up his sleeves for action.

Schools drill youngsters in such cerebral dexterity, also in Spencerian styles of lovely penmanship, on the crystal-pure theory that the kiddies, on becoming adults, will spend half their life doing multiplication without paper and doing all their writing by hand.

It would be unfair to inform the youngsters, to be sure, that they'll use only basic arithmetic (no algebra, no calcus, no trigonometry) in average vocational living, and that no matter how they labor at school desks to make beautiful script with a pen they'll get along nicely with their later chicken-tracks.

True, prodigies like this genius from the Netherlands provide teachers with a splendid example of native abilities bulwarked by concentration, and we need a few such models around lest all of our sixth-grade exhortations fall flat. Some such pleas collapse anyhow in a push-button era. Note what has happened to cookery classes!

Curtis Allen, one of the pioneers of Marion, was a native of Connecticut. He emigrated to Ohio in 1832 and settled here when the city was considered a "small town in the primitive West." He was elected justice of the peace and by consecutive elections filled the office for 21 years. He also served as mayor of the village, postmaster in 1841 under William Henry Harrison's administration and served for four years. He established a book and stationery store on what is now Center St. and continued in the business until his death, Sept. 10, 1853.

Radios in taxicabs are barred in many cities, but New York has just rescinded an order barring their operation, and you may now have to listen to "As Time Goes By," and "Slow Boat to China" as you try to get across town in heavy traffic. With "When Day Is Done" as you reach your destination.

Visitors to the metropolis may rightfully ask for "Everything I Have Is Yours" as they gaze at the fast-clicking meters.

In the after-theater fight for cabs on a rainy night we suggest that the cabbies try to get "Feudin' and Fightin'."

Public reaction is mixed. There are people who find a taxi ride made more endurable by radio music; there are others who think radio programs can add to the ordeal.

With us, it all depends on circumstances and mood.

We don't always wince at "Far Away Places" as we are stalled for the tenth time on a six-block trip and can sometimes take "Everything Happens to Me" as the cab reaches the station five minutes too late, but we can never learn to like the "Strike It Rich" program while watching the taxi meter or welcome "Life Can Be Beautiful" when our cab is wedged between a ten-ton truck and a horse van in a one-way street.

The Dodgers baseball games have been kept from the air by a radio engineers' strike. This has left us for almost a week without any knowledge of how things were going in the beer and cigarette trades.

J. Norman Lewis, the lawyer retained by big league ballplayers to represent them in their dealings with the club owners, was permitted into only a part of a conference, this being the first time in baseball that a fellow got the bean ball without even being permitted to step up to the plate. Or were the magnates giving the lawyer the intentional pass?

We are all for the Rodgers & Hammerstein Week, but how about an Irving Berlin Week?

It strikes us that France is the only nation on earth that is sick and fears it may have to do something about it.

A Chicago professor of anatomy, Prof. Ralph DePalma will never do better with figures than he did on the Fred Allen Show this week, winning, believe it or not, $2,000 for merely judging talent shows in the same order that the pro panel judged 'em. AND THERE WERE three acts!!!

We still thought Fred Allen, always a funny man in our book, uncomfortable and out of place as a master of ceremonies, but the $2,000 awards for judging three performers correctly may make it a show of shows.

We know an investor so depressed over the stock market drop that he fears a slump in the slump.

Fred Allen says 3-D pictures are to be followed by 5-D releases. "The pictures are so big they fill the theater, and the audience has to view them from the lobby," he says.

A Nassau, L. I., bank has a TV program with a giveaway. It limits its prize to government bonds but a trend is a trend and we predict a day when your bank and trust company will have a jackpot program including a complete wardrobe for depositing money and a six-passenger sedan for withdrawing. With maybe a case of wine for lucky Chirstmas Club clients.

Connecticut, instead of taking away the licenses of suspended motorists, will allow autoists to retain them on probation "to save clerical work." — Omigosh! — If you get knocked 300 yards by some cockeyed driver already suspended as unsafe, just remember you have saved some state clerk a few extra steps!

September Neither Summer Nor Fall

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Here it is September morn, and all it rates from most of us is a big fat yawn.

For in the great house of the year September is one of the least interesting rooms. In fact it is less of a separate room than it is a drab corridor between two pleasant places.

September is like near beer. It has the name but lacks a famous flavor. It is near - summer, near-fall, and yet is neither. It is like a fellow who tries to be popular by imitating two other people, and thus becomes nobody.

How can September ever have an identity of its own, half of the time essaying the cloying warmth of August, then weakly attempting to copy the robust apparel of October?

If months were named for diseases, September would be called "30 - day schizophrenia," or "the season with the split-personality." It is the elderly adolescent of the calendar, forever teetering between the dog days and autumn, forever unable to make up its own mind or its own weather.

Just what good is September, if it were put on trial, what could you say in its defense?

It generally has enough hot days to provoke the warm weather conversationalists to croak a final, "They says it ain't really the heat—it's the humility." (These people then hibernate silently until the first snowfall, when they emerge and ask, "cold enough for you"?)

But if you gamble on going to the beach to put a last polish on your suntan, September, is just as likely to slap you in the face with a hurricane.

September is uncertain, unpredictable. It is in reverse with wrinkles under the eyes — like a middle-aged actress trying to play the role of a young girl again in an out-of-date melodrama.

The trouble with September is that she reflects her indecision into us. She brings a kind of reverse spring fever. On warm days we sluggishly think how nice it would be to have a second vacation. But the cool days she brings aren't crisp enough yet to stir our moping minds to vast new dreams.

September is a lull in living, a cocoon time for boss and hired hand. It is an interlude in which to tie up the loose ends of summer, pay old bills, get the kids off to school again, a last pause of the blood before the vigorous pulsing days ahead.

And, I suppose, if you put September on the witness stand in its own behalf, it would say something like this:

"You can't have action on the stage all the time, or the audience would wear out. And everybody in the theater can't be a star, either.

"It isn't my fault I am only one of the year's scene shifters. My job is to get the summer scenery started moving off the stage, and the next scenery moving on. I have to notify the leaves it is time to change costume and give the robins their cue to scram.

"I just got a million things like that to do. All I can promise you is that if you'll just stick around, the next act will be better. Meanwhile, why don't you rest your eyeballs and wait for the show, instead of, bawling out the stagehand?"

There's no doubt September has a point, even though, as months go, its as dull to most of us as a corset ad is to a Shetland pony.

But it has one priceless virtue. It brings a magic sea change to every restaurant menu. The first of September may often bore mankind. But it draws our old pal, the oyster, from his shell. He's in a real stew from now on.

Gold Is Hidden In Them Hills in Down Under Land

PERTH Australia (UP)—A spectacular strike at a mine 300 air miles northeast of Perth has West Australians hoping for another gold boom

The Hill 50 mine of the only company operating at the once-thriving town of Mt Magnet recently announced that values up to 16 ounces to the ton were struck when a drill went through the 1140-foot level, several hundred feet below the mines present workings

Mt Magnet livened up with the news and a number of other mining ventures rushed to peg out leases in areas adjacent to Hill 50 Now lease application notices are overlapping the notice board at the Mt Magnet office of the mines department

The mine plans to begin to treat its high-grade ore early next year The manager estimated that it would take at least three months to sink a shaft down to where the rich strike was made Tunneling to reach the ore would take another three months.

One feature of the mine that makes for easy working is that the rock in which the ore is found is so hard that no timbering is needed underground

Meanwhile, until Hill 50 gets into the big money it is showing good profits on the ore now being worked

Know what that sign means?

It's a symbol we've borrowed from the hobo's secret sign language which he chalks on walls and doors. That sign on the above factory means: "This place is doing well". And that is typical of businesses and industries in communities served by the Erie Railroad.

Whatever their size, most communities along the Erie's right-of-way have this in common: they grow, they thrive—and keep on growing! And for a progressive railroad, a thriving community is a big asset. The railroad grows with the cities it serves—progress is mutual.

That's why the Erie works constantly to keep pace with your community's progress—by improving our equipment and service to you and industry. In that way, we help draw new industries and bigger payrolls to your town—all adding up to the kind of prosperity that made America the rich nation it is today.

St. Louis Heat Fails To Stop Legion Parade

10-Hour-Long March Under Way; Policy Issues Up Wednesday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The American Legion thrust aside national convention conflicts and routine today to parade for hours through downtown streets.

For many Legionnaires it was the highlight of the four-day annual convention—the chance to display colorful uniforms replete with even more colorful decorations.

It was the day for everyone to have a good time.

Floor Fights Put Aside

Put aside for the day were the expected floor fights over the Air Force budget cuts and this nation's participation in the United Nations. Those issues probably will come up tomorrow.

A sprinkling of notables, including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, joined the veterans of three wars—World War I and II and the Korean conflict—in the parade expected to take 10 hours to pass.

Traffic in the area was blocked off and streetcars and busses to the downtown area rerouted.

In addition to the veterans uniformed groups of the Legion Auxiliary and Sons of the Legion took part. Also marching were units of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and National Guard. Military planes flew overhead at intervals.

All States Represented

Three hundred bands and drum and bugle corps supplied the music.

Each of the 48 state departments had delegations in the parade. Also represented were departments from Canada, Mexico, France, Italy, Puerto Rico, Canal Zone, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

Several resolutions have been introduced attacking the United Nations in varying degrees.

One, calling for outright U. S. withdrawal from the international body, came before the Ohio delegation but was voted down by that membership.

A former national commander of the Legion, Donard R. Wilson of Clarksburg, W. Va., put into words the feeling of some delegates yesterday.

"Make sure that it (the United Nations) doesn't eventually give away your children, your rights, your citizenship and your flag," he said in a speech.

Outlines Views

He didn't advocate American withdrawal from the U. N., but said the Legion should make sure "the American people learn that you cannot fight a war by air-conditioned committees made up of people who either are not American or are anti-American."

Nixon yesterday defended the administration's cut in Air Force funds, an issue criticized in another resolution submitted to the Legion executive committee.

He told the delegates the fund cuts meant 'no interruption, no lag and no setback in aircraft production."

Charges Against Two Marion Men Dismissed

The charges were dismissed after the complaining witness, Carlos Cattani of 220 Blaine Ave., testified the two men had not assaulted him as he originally claimed, Judge W. Dexter Hazen said.

The two men were arrested last Tuesday after Cattani signed warrants charging they assaulted him.

Germans Foil Plot To Wreck Sunday Voting

Nab Red Agents After Goon Squads Get Set To Hit Polling Places

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government said today it has uncovered a Communist plot to wreck Sunday's national election by destroying voting stations throughout the country.

The Federal Press Office said top Red agents captured in an attempted mass sneak invasion of West Germany during the last three days had admitted the Communist plan. It was to send squads of riot-trained toughs to attack election officials, destroy ballot boxes and frighten away voters.

The Communist "terror plan" called for groups of 20 hardened Reds to descend on each voting station, the press office said.

The captured Red agents were quoted as saying this was the master plan behind the invasion of Communists from East Germany.

Federal border police and local police have arrested 4,500 of these agents along the interzonal frontier separating West and East Germany. Most of these already have been sent back.

But hundreds slipped through before police clamped down strict controls on travelers from Communist East Germany. Today the border police said hundreds of others may still be getting in through isolated points on the frontier.

THEIR SON'S ALIVE. Holding a telegram which carried the word that her son, Marine Pfc. Donald K. McCoy, had been killed in action in Korea, Mrs. Walter Frein clings to her husband after being roused from bed at Muskegon, Mich., with the wonderful message that her son not only is alive, but was one of the prisoners of war returned to Panmunjom that day.

10 Accidents Reported by Police, Patrol

One person was slightly injured in a total of 10 traffic accidents investigated Monday by Marion city police and state patrolmen.

The Rev. Robert E. Gately, 28, assistant pastor at St. Mary Church, was treated for cuts of the right arm and hand and a bruised left leg by a Marion physician after his car hit the rear of an auto driven by Edwin Graham, 29, of Cardington, about 10:20 a.m. Monday. The mishap occurred three-tenths of a mile north of Marion on U. S. Route 23. Graham was slowing down when the Gately car struck. He said the alternative was a 100-mile march over frozen highways—"tantamount to a death sentence."

With the exchange moving into its final days, the Reds, as of Tuesday, had returned 2,927 Americans of the 3,313 they originally said they held. The Communists have since indicated they hold more and have promised to repatriate all who want to go home. They have given no figures, however.

350 Still Held Back

But one American released Tuesday said about 350 Allied sergeants, mostly Americans, were still awaiting repatriation at Kaesong, the Red holding point just north of Panmunjom.

The returnee, M. Sgt. Robert Barkovic of International Falls, Minn., said he did not know the number of enlisted men or officers left because they were kept in compounds apart from noncommissioned officers.

Sgt. 1. C William F. Bortler of Jersey City, N.J., who also was freed Tuesday, estimated between 500 and 800 U.N. captives were still at Kaesong, not including 40 others being held at a special compound.

Among Last Group

He said the 40 had been accused of "propaganda crimes" and would be among the last to be repatriated.

In all, 11,416 of the 12,782 Allied POWs the Reds originally listed have been freed, leaving 1,366 yet to be returned, by Red count.

North Korea's Pyongyang radio said Tuesday that Allied "war criminals" convicted by Red military courts would be released along with other Allied POWs.

"Returning prisoners have told of fellow POWs being sentenced to long prison terms on such charges as "instigating against the peace."

The Red broadcast, heard in Tokyo, reiterated assurances the Communists gave the U.N. Command Monday at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission.

Pyongyang said a "releasing ceremony" was held Monday near Panmunjom during which the POWs were told they would be repatriated.

Worst Batch

The broadcast did not say how many were in the group. It called them "the 'worst batch of war criminals" and said they had been convicted of "terroristic activities, riots within prison camps, insulting women and children, murder and violence in general, and arson."

The U.N. Command returned 2,400 Communist POWs Tuesday, raising to 62,817 the number of North Koreans and Chinese sent back to Red rule.

That leaves about 11,000 Reds still to be returned and U.N. sources said they expected to wind up their part of the exchange by Sunday.

Freed U.S. Fliers Tell of Questioning By Soviet Officers

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP) — Four American fliers returned in today's prisoner exchange told of being questioned by Russians. The four also said they knew of other airmen taken into Manchuria for questioning by Russian military experts.

The airmen included Lt. Loris R. Miller, 27, of Berlin, Ohio, whose F84 was knocked down by flak Sept. 14, 1951.

Miller told of seeing an enlisted man made to kneel on two bricks with a stick placed behind his knees.

"They forced him to lean back and then put a stick behind his arms. They beat him with clubs and fists and then made him remain there for several hours.

"He was accused of being happy at the sight of F84s which had strafed the area."

Marion Man Charged With Theft of Brushes

Herman Jones, 51, of 822 Kenton Ave., is in city prison this morning awaiting a hearing on a charge of petit larceny.

Police received a call Monday morning from the Lane Supply Company on W. Center St. when officers investigated the call, the manager of the store told them a man had come into the store and stole two paint brushes.

From the description given by the manager, the officers picked up Jones and filed charges against him. Later they found the two brushes, valued at five dollars, in a west side bar where the man had traded them for a pint of wine.

Jones is scheduled for court appearance today.

Tito Charges Italy With Provocations

LONDON (AP) — Marshal Tito's government today formally accused Italy of frontier provocations and warned Yugoslavia will "discard all responsibility" for what it called "the armed demonstrations of the Italian units along the Yugoslav-Italian frontier."

The note, as summarized in a Belgrade radio broadcast, also "expressed expectation that the Italian government will renounce such methods so that these acts might not become a precedent in the further relations between the two countries."

Bucyrus Man Placed On Probation by Judge

William Dale Snavely, 31-year-old Bucyrus man, was placed on probation for four years when he changed a not guilty plea to guilty on charges of breaking and entering and larceny before Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith yesterday.

He was arrested May 17 by the Marion County sheriff's office and charged with stealing articles valued at approximately $1,000 over a period of several months. He had been sent to the Lima State Hospital for a 30-day observation period and was judged sane, and was indicted by the grand jury on Aug. 12.

Navy and Rutgers Team Up in Fight Against Corrosion

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—Rutgers University is teaming up with the Navy in an all-out war against corrosion—which really is a war of dollars.

Six billion dollars is lost to corrosion in this country every year, and science is trying to check this loss with a new system of corrosion prevention.

A system actually was developed by industrial scientists during World War II at the urgent request of the Navy. They produced an anti-corrosive treatment, called a wash primer, which saved plenty of dollars—and lives.

But the Navy admits the discovery came about by a combination of good luck and better guesswork. And now the Navy wants to know just what it has developed.

Essentially, it's a chemical mixture of phosphoric acid, a resin and an inhibitive pigment. This is where Rutgers scientist Edward R. Allen comes in. Allen, research specialist in chemistry directing the Rutgers phase of the project, has his own ideas about the anti-corrosive.

He says his job will be to investigate the properties, structure and functions of the new substance in order to improve and extend its application.

Dr. Allen, who also heads similar projects for the Army and Atomic Energy Commission, points out that the most serious limitation of the substance is that it must be applied within eight hours after preparation. Elimination of this quick loss of potency, he explains, would allow the Navy and industrial users to keep it on hand, avoid waste and eventually mass produce it.

The Navy also wants to know how the wash primer can better be applied to its aircraft. The new treatment, which the Rutgers scientist says actually is a system of metal conditioning, has provided years of protection to ship bottoms and other steel structures. But it hasn't been so effective on the light metal alloys used in planes.

But Allen says that even in its present state, the anti-corrosive has many factors in its favor. For one thing, he declares, it lasts as much as 100 per cent longer than any other anti-corrosives and can be applied quickly with a brush or paint spray.

LIMA CHILD KILLED

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Larry Priest, 4, was killed last night by a truck in front of his Lima home.

Four Students In County Win Scholarships

Four prospection teachers from Marion County have been awarded two - year elementary teaching scholarships and two additional scholarships have been made available to county residents.

Marion County Superintendent of Schools D. T. Mills announced that the four county scholarship recipients are Anna Gertrude Crabtree of Morral, Bonnie Kerns of Marion, Nancy Jean Dowler of Marion, and Mary Sue Pilkington of near Marion.

Each Ohio county was allotted three scholarships but because all counties did not submit three candidates the remaining number of scholarships are being divided among those counties able to supply additional applicants.

Applications for the scholarships, which pay $500 annually for two years toward education for elementary school teachers, can be secured from the county school office on the third floor of the courthouse, Mills said.

Deadline for submitting the applications for the two additional scholarships allotted for Marion County is Thursday in order that they may be transmitted to Columbus by Saturday.

The scholarships were provided for by an act of the Ohio Legislature in an effort to alleviate the teacher shortage in Ohio.

Dead Parcel Post Brings Lively Bids

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (UP)—One of the oddest auctions was completed here when everything from dolls to slightly stale cigarettes went on the block—and were sold.

It was the annual postal auction and on the opening day more than 70 persons crowded into the post office and patiently awaited the opening.

Walter J. Lucett, superintendent of the dead parcel post and claims section, opened the auction.

"This is one job I don't mind," Lucett said, "because the first items to be auctioned—and the only ones I auction—are dolls. I like to watch those kids start bidding."

It was only a matter of seconds after the bidding started and small hands were waved wildly in the air when a large "mama" doll went for $4. And then in rapid-fire order others followed.

As each of the young bidders received her purchase she completely ignored the rest of the bidding and the adults took over.

In the front row were seated those the postal employes called the "old timers."

Some of the people out there, said one postal employe, have been coming to these auctions for years—"if you look closely you'll see a lot of them have binoculars to tell whether or not they want to bid on an item."

Toys seemed to be the most popular item at the auction, but officials admitted they were mystified at some of the bids. A bicycle wheel brought $6; a bundle of old clothes, $3.50; a lot of hair nets went for $5, and six cartons of presumably stale cigarettes for $5.

PIKE CONTRACT LET

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission today awarded a $10,030,000 contract for building 9.24 miles of the toll highway.

The low bidder was Western Contracting Corp., Sioux City, Iowa.

WAINWRIGHT CRITICAL

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Gen. Johnathan M. Wainwright, 70, hero of Corregidor, has suffered a second stroke and is in critical condition, Brooke Army Hospital announced today.

Hunters have a tough time trying to trap the African jerboa, a desert rat which resembles a midget kangaroo with its long hind legs. It has 360 degrees vision and can see ahead, behind, above or below, or all around without moving its head.

Choco Indians Bow To Modern Living

WASHINGTON (UP)—The primitive Choco Indians of Darien, after centuries of stubborn resistance to change, finally are beginning to adopt some of the innovations of the white man's 20th century.

This finding was reported by Dr. Matthew W. Stirling, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution. Stirling conducted an expediiton into the little Panama province last winter. His was the first study to be made of the Choco culture in 25 years.

The Chocos have not taken up the clothing, housing, or food of the white man, but they do make use of many items which make their traditional pursuits easier. For instance, the blowgun with its poison darts has given way in many cases to the .22 rifle. The outboard motor and nets of European manufacture greatly increase the catch of the native fisherman.

Game and fish are not cooked on the open fire of old, but on portable pressure stoves. Nor does the fire provide the only light, now that many of the inhabitants have discovered the "magic" of the kerosene lamp.

Both sexes still paint their bodies and faces in elaborate designs, the stains being obtained from local plants. But even here there are European influences for the native stains have been supplemented by lipstick and indelible pencils obtained from traders.

The Chocos have a reputation for hostility toward outsiders and this belligerency has kept out most scientists and traders. Many natives have visited the outside world, however, some even learning languages other than their own, and it is from this contact that the changes have come.

The BRT's 14-man Wage-Rules Committee, meeting in Cleveland, has just recommended that the unions shoot for a pay boost of 37½ cents an hour, equal to $3 a day, and also seek longer vacations.

The general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen also have set a 37½ cent goal.

The 15 unions in the "nonoperating" group, claiming over a million members, are preparing new demands too. They already are trying to negotiate a health-welfare fund, improved vacation and holiday provisions and other benefits.

In addition to Harris and Miss Reed, damages were awarded to Leon Elveson, library clerk $7,000 damages; Frank Carter Bancroft, documents control, $12,000; Julia Older, documents control, $27,500; Sidney Glassman economic stability division, $20,000; Joel Gordon, economic stability division, $6,000.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

When one reads the transcript of the record in the case of Edward M. Rothschild, a bookbinder in the Government Printing Office, the data presents itself differently from the more condensed news reports This is naturally so, for the record is long, the questioning complex, and only a second view of it can bring out the details and overtones of testimony.

SOKOLSKY

It would seem that this is a case which requires study by the Department of Justice because what is involved is access to precisely such information and data as resulted in the theft of the atom and hydrogen bombs We do not yet know the entire story of this espionage and we shall not until a thorough investigation has been made of the security methods of the Atomic Energy Commission.

WE DO KNOW that from 1942 to 1947, the crucial years, the FBI was forbidden to engage in this field, that employes of the Atomic Energy Commission were not screened by the FBI, which contains the most complete files on subversives, including fingerprints and cumulating records. From the results, it would appear that no adequate screening took place and that that is the reason why Klaus Fuchs, Gold, Greenglass Sobell, etc could commit their crimes unimpeded.

In the case of Rothschild, the testimony is that he stole secret documents. In the McCarthy hearings this was brought out:

"The Chairman: We have testimony to the effect that you stole secret documents from the Government Printing Office, among other things that you stole a secret code and took it from the GPO What is your answer to that?

"Mr. Rothschild: Under the Fifth Amendment I still refuse to answer that question on the grounds it would tend to incriminate me"

Now, while Rothschild enjoys the constitutional right to refuse to answer a question which he believes will incriminate him, he already knew that there was testimony from the Navy that matter involving the atom bomb had been sent to the Government Printing Office. Under such circumstances, one would imagine that Rothschild would cry out in his defense

"That is a damned lie!"

But he did nothing of the sort Instead, this is how he handled it

"The Chairman: . . .Did you ever steal a secret code from the Government Printing Office?

"Mr. Rothschild: I refuse to answer that question. Sir, on the same grounds. (Fifth Amendment)"

Here is a man who has been charged by 40 persons, according to FBI records, with "espionage against the United States in time of war, stealing secrets, stealing a code, being a member of the Communist party." He is entitled to his day in court. He should be given his day in court. But that is up to Attorney General Brownell

IF THE CHARGES are false, Rothschild should be exonerated, but he should not be permitted to get off because of the fear that this might be another Alger Hiss case and disclose negligence on the part of high officials.

In fact, Senator McCarthy, in the interrogation of Mrs. Rothschild, said to her.

". .Your husband has been accused of stealing material from the Government Printing Office, secret material which would be of great benefit to the enemy. He has been accused of stealing a code book, for example. We assume that he did not steal that to entertain himself at night reading it He stole it obviously for a purpose. It was done during war

"The Navy officers who have testified that if the atomic material which they sent over to the Government Printing Office got in the hands of the enemy, it could do tremendous damage to this nation, one of the most serious charges I think ever made before this committee by a sizable number of witnesses."

MRS. ROTHSCHILD refused to answer any questions, taking advantage of the Fifth Amendment In the testimony, it was brought out clearly that the FBI had reported to the Government Printing Office as early as 1943 about Rothschild, that its report had been ignored, that as late as July of this year, Rothschild had, in effect, been cleared by the GPO security officers on the ground that the FBI, having once reported to them that about 40 witnesses had made charges against him, it, the FBI, had provided no new and additional data

Is it surprising that the Russians got away with the secrets of the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

Royal Match

By Inez Robb

If Princess Margaret doesn't marry before long, matchmakers on both sides of the Atlantic are going to be worn to a frazzle, and so am I.

INEZ ROBB

The latest eligible bachelor for whom the busybodies have set their caps in the princess's behalf is Lord Patrick Terence William Span Plunket, seventh Baron Plunket

If the little princess should marry Lord Plunket, the gods would probably sit on the sidelines and laugh themselves silly.

For milord's grandmother, the late Fannie Ward (the perennial flapper) was once in the long, long ago forbidden to live within a mile of Buckingham Palace.

THAT WAS because the all but imperishable Fannie in the gay 80s and 90s was a musical comedy star and a queen of the music halls at home and abroad. In those far-off days, an actress was forbidden to live within a mile of the Royal Palace, a hard and fast rule enforced by custom and police

Fannie, who died in January, 1952, lived to see her oldest grandson an equerry to King George VI She was accustomed to chuckle with more glee than malice as she pointed out that her grandson lived in and helped run the "joint" which, as a young actress, she was expected to contaminate if she lived less than a mile distant

-:-

AND NOW the matchmakers, including apparently some members of the princess' own family, are of the opinion that Fannie's grandson is just what common sense and cupid ordered

It was Lord Plunket who was chosen to replace the controversial Group Capt. Peter Townsend of the RAF as an equerry in the royal household when the captain was "banished" from London to the British Embassy in Brussels in order to put distance between the royal princess and himself.

Anyway, that's why he was banished according to the gossip.

At all odds, Lord Plunket is a member of the royal household.

He is frequently in the princess's company and it was he who danced H. R. H. of the royal fleet at the birthday ball given in her honor by the queen ten days ago when Margaret turned a ripe 23.

-:-

THE CIRCLE of eligible young men, never large at best, worthy of a princess, narrows constantly as the lads marry much less regal personages than Margaret

There are them as think Lord Plunket is the answer to a princess' prayer—tall dark and handsome with money. And don't think the latter contingency isn't of first importance. It costs like sixty even to be an in-law of royalty.

Princess Margaret receives only a modest — royally speaking — allowance from Parliament Even though the queen might augment her sister's income from her private purse if and when Margaret marries, it would be nice if the bridegroom could afford to pick up the checks occasionally.

LORD PLUNKET'S youthful parents, who were killed in an airplane accident on the California coast in 1938, left him a wad conservatively estimated at a million dollars.

Since jewels valued at only $20,000 were found in his grandmother's estate when she died, I have often wondered if Fannie gave him, before her death, the magnificent pearls and other jewels she once owned

The youthful Irish peer, who will be 30 years old on Sept 8, is a godson of the late George VI, father of the princess to whom the matchmakers would now marry him.

If it realy does turn out to be a match, Fannie ought to rate a special window in heaven from which to watch the jubilation in Buckingham from whose very vicinity she was barred so long ago.

Good House Brings No Bids at Public Auction

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — The U. S. National Park Service couldn't find anyone here willing to pay even $5 for a two-story, well-kept house.

Put up for auction, the structure didn't bring a single bid despite its excellent condition

There was a house-moving problem involved. The structure, formally a lighthouse keeper's dwelling, is located on Fort Sumter, a historic island in the entrance to Charleston Harbor.

As a result, it is being razed.

Hope To Heal Split at Chicago Meeting

Democrats Gang Up To Attack GOP

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders, still beset by internal dissension, look for attacks on Republican farm policies to become a rallying point for their efforts to restore party unity at a Sept. 14-15 conference in Chicago.

Farm prices, which recently turned down again after leveling off from previous declines, are certain to be spotlighted at a panel discussion of agricultural problems led by Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has billed the Chicago meeting as a sendoff for Democratic senatorial candidates in next year's campaigns. And high farm price supports appear to be one of the few national issues on which the 21 Democrats up for re-election can agree, almost without exception.

Southern Democrats who were critical of former President Truman and who show no enthusiasm for Adlai E. Stevenson as the presidential nominee again in 1956 can forget their party differences in support of almost any program that promises greater returns for the farmer.

That goes for such expected candidates as Senators Eastland of Mississippi, Ellender of Louisiana, McClellan of Arkansas, Maybank of South Carolina, Robertson of Virginia, Russell of Georgia and Lennon of North Carolina.

It goes also for Southerners more inclined to support the party stand on other national issues, such as Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate minority leader; Sparkman of Alabama, the 1952 vice presidential nominee; Kefauver of Tennessee; and the dozen Democrats from the North and West who are up for re-election.

Johnson said in a weekend analysis of problems likely to come before the next session of Congress that the agricultural situation is contributing to "disturbing signs in the nation's economy."

"Farm prices have been falling at a rate far exceeding the drop in consumers' prices," he observed. Noting that inventories are piling up in some industrial lines, he added:

"It is too early to say whether there are merely minor cracks in an otherwise solid economy or whether they represent the beginnings of a trend which could be deleterious to our people."

Thus far, none of these potential 1954 senatorial candidates has indicated he is voluntarily absenting himself from the meeting, as Sen. Holland (D-Fla) said he would do.

Holland said in an interview yesterday he is declining an invitation to attend the Chicago session because he believes the South has nothing to gain there. This was an obvious reflection of Dixie resentment over the civil rights stand taken by the party at last year's convention.

Holland said that until the South is taken into full partnership in the writing of the platform and the selection of presidential nominees, the national party is going to continue to find defections below the Mason and Dixon Line.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who helped swing Virginia to President Eisenhower in last year's election, by refusing to back Stevenson, said he hadn't been invited to the Chicago powwow and had no intention of attending.

However, Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said he would go if he could arrange his schedule to attend the meeting.

Britain, Egypt Said Near Settlement on Dispute Over Suez

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Britain and Egypt were reported near agreement Monday on evacuation of British troops from their big Suez Canal zone installation and future Western use of the base in the event of war.

A high official source said "almost all" differences had been settled and the two nations so long at odds were expected to complete a final agreement late in September.

The source said Egypt, in informal talks here, had agreed if Britain pulled her 80,000 troops out of the canal zone, Egypt would make the base there available again to the West in case of war.

But he indicated possible use of the base in the event of an attack on Turkey remained the chief point at issue. He explained:

The Egyptians contended Western forces should be allowed back into the canal zone only in case of aggression against Arab countries.

"The British at first insisted that this be extended to include cases of aggression against Iran, Turkey and Greece as well. Now they have given up Greece and Iran."

"Little questions" still blocking a formal agreement will be taken up, the source said, when Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, Britain's top negotiator, returns from London conferences around Sept. 16. He is scheduled to leave for Britain early in September.

School at LaRue Short 3 Teachers With Opening Near

LARUE — The nationwide shortage of teachers is being felt in one Marion County school.

With the gong of the school bell almost audible and the first schoolday about a week away, the situation at LaRue School has reached a crisis. The faculty staff is three teachers short and school this year may have to run on a part time basis. When the expected 430 students in both grade and high school file into the classrooms on Tuesday morning, Sept. 8, the school may still need a music teacher, English or social studies instructor and a commercial teacher.

Superintendent Warren Lowther commented that the search for the three teachers needed to fill out the 1953 LaRue faculty list had extended into Kentucky and other states with no success. It's the first time in the school history that the teacher shortage has affected the LaRue School so directly.

The first day of school at LaRue will consist of a half day session with students being dismissed at the noon hour. The first complete schoolday will be held Wednesday.

New teachers at LaRue this year are: Mrs. Gladys Amos of Bucyrus, who taught at North Robinson School last year, mathematics; John Savage of Bucyrus, physical science; and Donald Decker, vocational-agriculture. Other members of the 1953 faculty are Mrs. Genevieve Everett, first; Mrs. Agnes Dunson, second, Miss Martha Sheets, third; Mrs. Mac Weist, fourth; Mrs. Doris Virden, fifth; Mrs. Coreta Sperry, sixth, Mrs. Mary McNamara, social studies; Mrs. Lena Gillespie, home economics; Ted Dennison, football and basketball coach.

Reply to Critics of Stiffer Dollar

Bankers Defend Higher Interest Rate

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Stiffening the dollar has sent interest rates up. And those who borrow have felt the pinch and many have complained. They ask: Who is profiting at our expense?

That the banks have benefitted is evident from their fatter earnings statements this year. But the banks are quite sensitive about this. And they go out of their way to point out that the idea behind putting some starch in the dollar was to halt inflation, and not to benefit them — and also that the real beneficiaries have been the nation's savers, some 122 million individuals.

They are the ones who have life insurance policies, savings accounts, savings bonds, annuities and pensions, or own stocks, bonds and mortgages.

The suppliers of money who are now getting better returns—according to Charles L. Clements of Miami Beach, Fla., president of the United States Savings and Loan League—"are not wealthy financiers or banks . . . but the people who save money."

There are more savers than borrowers, the New York State Bankers Assn. believes. But it cites a still larger group, made up of those who are both borrowers and savers. An example. "The family regularly buying savings bonds while at the same time financing the purchase of a new automobile on installment credit.

The Twentieth Century Fund, a nonprofit foundation for economic research, is out today with a report, "defense and the dollar,' that tackles the problem behind the dispute over cheap or dear money.

It thinks the Federal Reserve System should try to win public confidence in a policy which would consistently make credit more readily available in depressions and restrict it during periods of inflation. It thinks the policy especially needed now when our economy is "dangerously loaded by defense requirements."

If the public came to feel that such a policy is both sensible and effective, the report holds, much of the policing of the monetary system would actually be done by business.

The report, written by Albert G. Hart, professor of economics at Columbia University, gives as an example If the federal reserve announces that an inflationary threat is to be countered by tightening loans, businessmen will automatically start "rearranging their plans to reduce the amount of credit they need."

The recent rise in interest rates came after the federal reserve started tightening up on credit, as a means of halting inflation

Farmers and businessmen felt the squeeze when they went to the bank to borrow. Families wanting to buy a house found mortgage money harder to come by and payments higher. The U.S. Treasury and corporations had to agree to pay higher interest on bonds or other securities to place them.

"This is leading some people to wait before they borow," the New York banking group admits. "But that is a very good thing when labor is fully employed and the country's business is booming along at top speed."

U.S. Ace Sets Altitude Record At 83,235 Feet

Marine Corps Flier Takes Rocket Plane Into Stratosphere

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Marine Corps ace has coasted to a new unofficial altitude record of 83,235 feet in the Douglas Skyrocket D558-2.

Lt. Col. Marion Eugene Carl, 37, of Quantico, Va., told a press conference yesterday he zoomed up to the new high Aug. 21, climbing the final 1½ miles on momentum after exhausting 6,000 pounds of fuel in a little less than three minutes.

Pointed up at a 30 to 40-degree angle, the rocket plane shot up at probably 1,000 miles an hour at its fastest rate.

The new mark exceeds by nearly a mile the 79,494-foot record set in the same aircraft Aug. 15, 1951, by Douglas test pilot Bill Bridgeman. Bridgeman also established a world speed record of 1,238 miles an hour in the D558-2.

Col. Carl, credited with 18 Japanese planes during World War II plans to try tomorrow to exceed Bridgeman's speed mark. He has made two tries in the past few days and failed.

He described his record altitude flight:

"The Skyrocket was dropped from the belly ofa B29 Superfortress at an altitude of about 33,500 feet. I had a little trouble lighting the first two of the four rockets and dropped to 28,000 feet before I started climbing.

"The sky was a little darker near the top of the climb. There was a greater contrast between sunlight and shadow.

"I was perfectly comfortable in the pressurized cabin and in my pressure suit. The outside temperature was minus 70 at 55,000 feet and minus 57 and 58 at 80,000."

The aircraft coasted over the crest of its climb and headed down, gliding for about eight minutes before being landed at 150 m.p.h. on a long dry lake runway at Edwards Air Force Base on the Mojave Desert near here.

CRESTLINE — Mr. and Mrs. William Stephenson, of Cincinnati, entertained 21 members of the Crestline Emergency Hospital staff and Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brandt with a chicken dinner Thursday night at the Greenlawn, west of Crestline.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson were involved in an automobile accident last year over the Labor Day week end and they were patients in the hospital here for 50 days, after which they returned to their home in Cincinnati to resume their usual duties. This year, they journeyed back to Crestline to visit relatives near here and several times they stopped at the hospital to visit their friends. On one occasion they visited the Greenlawn and made arrangements with Mr. and Mrs. Malson for a dinner party for all staff members. The hospital party also accepted the invitation of Dr. and Mrs. Brandt to come out to their cottage at Walton Lake after the dinner for a more informal get-together. The invitation was accepted by the Stephensons and their party.

BUCYRUS — A two-car collision here last March 28, which resulted in one death and injuries to three others, has resulted in a $11,136 action for money being filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Harry Stone of near Bucyrus.

Named defendant is Mrs. Clarence Myers, 31, Bucyrus, whose daughter, Pamela Jo, 8, was fatally injured in the crash. Drivers of the cars were Mrs. Myers and Stone.

German Stock To Go Back on U.S. Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A new German-American validation board will start today the task of examining and verifying ownership of old German dollar bonds which have been in default since the outbreak of World War II.

The board announced yesterday that it had set up offices at 30 Broad St. in New York's financial district.

Trading in some 90 German issues will resume as soon as enough valid bonds and rightful owners have been determined by the board to establish a market value and permit orderly buying and selling.

Canadian Diesel Horns Confuse Mating Moose

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Regulations prescribing the volume and tone of diesel horns on Canadian railways reportedly are playing havoc with the sex life of some moose.

The National Railways' president Donald Gordon, told a Board of Trade luncheon here he has had reports "from some animal lovers that during the mating season the bull moose has mistaken the sound of a diesel klaxon for the vocal response of an amorous moose cow—with results that have been disastrous to the male animal."

Arab-Asian Issue May Be Ducked In Security Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France needed the support of only one more Security Council member today to block consideration of the touchy Moroccan situation. Three countries — Colombia, Chile and Denmark—have not yet announced their position.

As the 11-nation body prepared to continue its discussions today, France, Britain and the United States were lined up opposing the Arab-Asian demands that the issue be added to the council's agenda. Greece has announced it will abstain.

Although four member countries have said they will support the demands, the proposal appeared headed for defeat. Seven affirmative votes are needed to put it across, so even one more abstention would stymie council action.

The 15 Arab-Asain nations charge the recent removal of the Moroccan Sultan by France threatened international peace. France contends that the administration of Morocco is a purely internal affair and no concern of the U.N.

The four council members supporting the Arab-Asian demand are Nationalist China, the Soviet Union, Pakistan and Lebanon.

Refrigerator Trucks Cool Children's Party

BOSTON (AP)—Too hot for comfort?

Some 350 employes of Genoa Packing Co. took 150 youngsters from the Italian Home for Children yesterday. But with the temperature at a wilting 95 degrees, hardly anyone was in a mood for fun.

Then Rocco Fiorini, company president, had an idea.

He ordered drivers of 19 refrigerated trucks to follow the party to the picnic grounds at Kingston.

Parked in a circle with doors open, they soon dropped the temperature to a more comfortable 78.

Plenty of Good News

DENVER (AP)—Percy Stewart of Denver is one happy man.

Last night he learn his son, Cpl. James W. Stewart, a prisoner for over two years, had been freed by the Communists in Korea.

U.S. Dickers With Spain, Trades Aid For Bomber Bases

NEW YORK (AP)—James C. Dunn, ambassador to Spain, says the United States is "doing very well" in negotiations for U.S. air bases in Spain in return for American aid.

Dunn made the statement to newsmen Sunday as he passed through here on a plane trip from Madrid to Washington for State Department consultations on the negotiations with Spain.

Dunn said of the talks with Spanish officials: "There is good disposition on both sides. But it is one of those negotiations composed of a lot of detail, and it takes time. It looks very encouraging and I am optimistic. The Spanish themselves, through the press, say that we are close to an agreement.'

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — "Send some officers to my home, quick!" a woman telephoned police.

Officers rushed to the spot, found two men knee-deep in water in the cellar, and asked the woman: "Who are they?"

"Plumbers," she replied. Then one of the policemen found a check valve and turned off the water.

Many restaurants still guess about their coffee. They try this and then that. We decided several months ago to produce a cup of coffee that would be perfect every minute of the day. So, we installed a Cory Automatic Coffeemaker. It is a miracle the way it works. We grind the coffee before your eyes. It is made in a few minutes, and every cup, the first or the fourth, is perfect.

FORESIGHT

Is More Dependable Than 'Lucky' Tokens

The best luck a boy can have today is to be lucky enough to have foresighted parents who see the necessity of giving him a good high school education and thorough training in business methods.

Many parents have found that the best way to give their sons practical business training is to encourage them to go into business for themselves as carrier boys for this newspaper.

As a newspaperboy he receives valuable business training in work that actually supplements his schooling. He earns his own money and learns to save and spend discriminately. Naturally, a boy who has learned to assume responsibility, to manage money and to plan his day's work is most likely to succeed in the business world.

Sends Up Trial Balloon

Dulles Hints at Possible Changes in U.N. Charter

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—A secretary of state can get help, ranging from a little to a lot, from his department specialists when he wants to prepare a speech.

It may pass through a number of hands for discussion, changes or suggestions. For example, when former Secretary Dean Acheson made an important speech on Russia several years ago, work began on it about five months before he delivered it.

Secretary Dulles himself wrote the speech he gave in Boston last week before the American Bar Association, suggesting, among other things, that changes should be made in the United Nations Charter.

From what can be learned he didn't consult his battery of State Departments experts on the U. N. The speech was so vague about the changes that it looks more like a trial balloon than any attempt to nail down ideas.

While the charter could be changed any time—if enough U N members voted for it—the question of changing it will come up automatically without anyone's suggesting it in 1955 The charter itself provides for that.

By throwing out a trial baloon now, Dulles could get some discussion going on possible changes If the discussion could be continued until 1955, by then the State Department would have some knowledge of how the country felt about it.

But because Dulles was so indefinite in his speech to the lawyers he will probably have to return to this subject later—if he wants discussion to continue—with suggestions more exact than he supplied this time.

One of the sorest spots in the history of the U. N.—from the American viewpoint—is the way Russia has repeatedly used its veto power in te Security Council to block United Nations action.

At one point in his talk, Dulles was critical of this overuse of the veto. But he can hardly have meant this country would consider eliminating it since the veto works both ways.

This country could use the veto to block U. N action inspired by Russia any time it thought necessary In fact, without the veto as protection, it is pretty certain the Senate would never have permitted this country to join the U. N.

But—it's the veto itself which may in the end reduce all talk about charter changes to wishful thinking.

When the U. N. Charter was being hammered together in 1945 at San Francisco, one question which arose naturally was about the charter itself, anticipating the very question now being raised by Dulles:

Suppose the time should come when members of the U. N. felt the rules laid down in the charter at San Francisco weren't working well and needed changing. How could it be done?

It was agreed and written into the charter that if enough members wanted to consider changes—two thirds of the 60 members of the General Assembly and seven of the 11 Security Council members a charter - changing conference could be called.

But if no such conference was held by 1955, then the question of holding such a conference would automatically be placed before the U. N. in 1955.

The conference still couldn't be held, even then, unless a majority of the General Assembly and seven Security Council members approved That much vote is needed just to call a conference to consider changes.

But there could be no changes unless two thirds of all the U. N members and all the permanent members of the Security Council approved. The five permanent members of the council are the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China.

In other words, if the United States or Russia said "no" to any proposed changes, there could be no changes.

Boston Win Knocks Out Tribe's Hopes

Cleveland Now 10½ Games Behind in Pennant Race

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Just when it looked as if the Cleveland Indians might really be started on a desperation dash toward the American League pennant, along came Ted Williams.

Almost everybody has been conceding the flag to the New York Yankees for quite a spell. But the Yanks have shown a tendency to stumble and after the Indians scalped them in three straight last week some folks, including Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, foresaw trouble

It was generally felt that nothing short of a sensational winning streak would bring the Indians anything like close. Hopes were still rising, however, on the shores of Lake Erie last night as the Tribe took a six-game winning streak into battle with the Boston Red Sox

Boston pushed over single runs in the second and third innings and Cleveland answered back with a lonesome tally in the sixth Then the Sox put two men on base in the seventh and Williams promptly parked one high into the upper right field deck of the spacious Municipal Stadium. It was his seventh home run in the four weeks since he's been out of the Marine Corps.

Boston went on and won 6-4, pushing Cleveland 10½ games back of the Yankees, who weren't scheduled Mathematically the Tribe could still make it with 25 games left to play. But it will be just that much harder, due to Terrible Ted from Boston.

The other American action last night was confined to the second division. Bobo Newsom, who's been around since dad was a lad, won his 200th American League game, a 10-4 decision for the Philadelphia Athletics over Detroit. Only 11 other hurlers ever have won that many in the American League. Detroit won the first game of the twi-night 9-7, and Washington edged St Louis 4-3.

In the National League, Brooklyn's homer - happy Dodgers whipped St. Louis 6-3, Cincinnati won a pair from Philadelphia 12-6 and 7-5, and New York smothered the Chicago Cubs 13-4 Milwaukee and Pittsburgh had the day off.

The Brooklyn victory moved the Dodgers 10½ games ahead of Milwaukee with 24 games remaining.

Newsom's teammates got him a 9-0 lead and he was in trouble only once—in the fifth inning—when he gave up three runs including a home run by Freddie Hutchinson, the Detroit manager who took over the pitching chores from loser Ted Gray in the third.

Brooklyn hit three home runs against the Cardinals — two by Duke Snider, who raised his month's total to 15, only one short of the National League record, and one by Gil Hodges. Roy Campanella, set a National League record for runs batted in by a catcher when he hammered across a pair, giving him a total of 124 for the season The old mark was 122

At Philadelphia, the Redlegs exploded for nine runs in the sixth inning to win the first game and fought back from a three-run deficit to capture the nightcap despite three Philadelphia homers. Granny Hamner hit a grand slam home run for the Phils in the first game and opened the second with another homer with one man aboard

The Cubs and Giants, playing in 97 degree heat, attracted only 1,702 paying customers to the Polo Grounds in the only major league day game The sparse gathering was the smallest of the year in New York Jim Rhodes and Daryl Spencer contributed homers to the 14-hit Giant attack on four Cub pitchers.

State Street Coach Calls Grid Meeting Thursday

A call is being made by Marion Waits, State Street Junior High School coach, to all boys eligible for the school's football program to meet at the school Thursday. Time of the meeting will be 2 p m.

No equipment will be issued, he stated, but boys will be given physical examination cards and other cards requesting parents' permission for participation in the sport. Any boys interested in becoming managers are asked to attend also

BREAK HOME RUN RECORD. Johnny Logan, Sid Gordon, Joe Adcock, Ed Mathews, Jack Dittmer, Del Crandall, and Jim Pendleton (left to right) of the Milwaukee Braves broke three National League records and tied a major league record in the double header with the Pittsburgh Pirates Eight homers in the first game set a National League record and tied the New York Yanks for major league home runs in one game. Four more hit in second game set a new mark for National League double headers in two consecutive games.

Redlegs Blast Phils To Win Doubleheader

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs blasted four Philadelphia Philly pitchers for 9 runs in one inning and went on to take a doubleheader 12-6 and 7-5 last night

Joe Nuxhall (7-9) was credited with the first game victory though he was relieved in the home-half of the sixth Harry Perkowski (11-9) went the route in the nightcap

In the big sixth of the opener the Redlegs loaded the bases three different times and 13 Cincinnati batters went to the plate. Each man scored a run on the five hits, four walks, three fielders choices and a wild-heave

The Queen City club had to come from behind in the second game too The Redlegs pulled ahead in the sixth frame.

Philadelphia scored two in the seventh but Perkowski put out the fire, as he did later in a bases-loaded ninth inning rallyl.

Return Match Tops Armory Twin-Bill

A return match between Gino Angelo and Clint Cody ordered by the Marion Wrestling Commission will headline a double main event on the Armory program Thursday.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh says he has signed up a new referee Dusty Rhous of South Bend, Ind., to handle thematch in compliance with the Wrestling Commission order.

Other half of the main event will pit Billy Fox against Joe Cassius. Both main events will be for two-out-of-three falls with a 60-minute time limit

The preliminary, starting at 8 30 p m, will see Mr. Satan tackle Jim Lewis, Satan is new to Armory patrons and comes from Chicago where he wrestled under the name of Mike Ryan.

Paul Brown Is On Lookout for Winning Team

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown emphasized today he plans to continue experimenting with his Cleveland Browns during exhibition games, no matter what the outcome.

The Browns won their first exhibition game against San Francisco 20-7, but dropped their game last Friday against Los Angeles 27-9.

"In other years we've known pretty well in advance what we could expect from the boys we had," Brown explained " But this year we have some problems, and we have to find the best men for the jobs "

In practice yesterday, he had Bill Willis working as offensive right tackle, Fred Bruney, former Ohio State star, at defensive left half in place of injured Warren Lahr, and Tom Catlin as left linebacker in place of injured Walter Michaels.

He plans to start them in those positions when the Browns meet Detroit in an exhibition game in Detroit Friday.

AA Loop Standings Unchanged, Name Gene Conley MVP

Toledo, Louisville and Kansas City continued a close one-two-three in the American Association last night with each recording a victory over a second-division club

Toledo beat Columbus 7-4, Louisville defeated Minneapolis 5-1 and Kansas City edged St. Paul 2-1.

Toledo thus maintained its one-game edge on Louisville and a game and a half margin over Kansas City.

Charleston and Indianapolis were not scheduled

Gene Conley, Toledo pitcher whose record is as much of a standout as his six-foot, eight-inch frame, was named today the Association's most valuable player for 1953.

The 22-year-old righthander got votes from three baseball writers in the circuit to edge Indianapolis outfielder Wally Post, named on two ballots Single votes went to catch Ray Katt, Minneapolis, first baseman Mo Mozzali, Columbus, and shortstop Alex Grammas, Kansas City.

Williams Blasts Homer As Indians Lose to Bosox

CLEVELAND (AP) That Boston man, Ted Williams, will get close attention from the Cleveland Indians today as they try to come out on top in the finale of their four-game series with the Red Sox

The ex-Marine pilot has homered two days in succession against the Tribe, his blast last night a 3-run affair that gave Boston a 6-4 victory and snapped Cleveland's winning streak at 6 games.

Early Wynn is scheduled to pitch for the Indians today, against either Mel Parnell or Willard Nixon

Mike Garcia, charged with last night's defeat, had retired Williams three trips in a row before the slugging outfielder solved him in the seventh inning with his seventh home run.

Boston picked up a run in each of the second, third and ninth innings.

Lary Doby hit his 20th homer for the Tribe in the ninth. Another less favorable statistic marked up for Doby last night was his 99th strikeout. The club record is 111, set by Doby last season.

Cleveland's other runs came in the sixth on George Strickland's single, and in the eighth when the Tribe scored two on singles by Doby and Strickland, a walk, and Johnny Lipon's wild throw.

World Series Ducat Prices Take Jump

NEW YORK (AP)—A good box seat for one World Series game this fall probably is going to cost $10—at least $2 more than ever before

And it's apt to cost at least $8 to get a reserved grandstand seat anywhere between first and third base

Ticket prices will be set a week from today when contending clubs get together with Commissioner Ford Frick to work out details of the series. There was every indication the price will rise for the first time since 1947

Frick has invited representatives of all clubs which, as of yesterday, still were theoretically in pennant contention, to meet with him next week

Talbert Could Upset National TennisTourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—At 35, Bill Talbert still is able to throw a monkey wrench into a tennis tournament, and it looks as if he's all set to do a job on the Nationals here this week.

"I can still play as well as I ever did when I have the desire," the slender New York stock broker said after his upset victory over Australia's Rex Hartwig yesterday. "I have the desire now."

Nobody is more anxious than the popular, crew-cut Talbert to make Uncle Sam's tennis brass eat crow.

First of all, they ignored him in setting up the 1953 Davis Cup doubles team although Tony Trabert of Cincinnati made a special request to play with him, calling Talbert "the greatest right court player in the world."

Then when seedings for the present National Tournament were announced, Talbert's name was omitted for the first time in 13 years.

Sixth-ranked nationally and in the top 10 for 13 years running, Talbert surprised the experts with the way he outstroked and outsmarted Hartwig, the fifth foreign seed, to win a second-round match 5-7, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Hartwig is the No. 3 man on the potent Aussie Davis Cup team and he holds recent victories over both his higher ranked mates, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad. Also, he trimmed Vic Seixas, the Wimbledon champion and No. 1 domestic seed here, a few weeks ago at South Orange, N. J.

Talbert gets Seixas in the fourth round if both come through third round tests as expected. Billy next plays the winner of the match between Ricardo Balbiers of Chile and Bill Quillian of Seattle.

Indiana Horse Sets Ohio Fair Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new track pacing record was set at the harness races at the Ohio State Fair yesterday.

Byne Volo, owned by M. B. Trout of Fort Wayne, Ind., was timed in 2:02 on the half-mile track. The 5-year-old Indiana horse clipped a quarter of a second from the previous record set by the Xenia pacer, Ray Henley, in 1934.

Byne Volo won by three lengths. He also won the second heat in the free-for-all pace in 2.05.

Today's program features the Buckeye Pacing Derby for 16 class pacers. Poor Pop, owned by William (Doc) McMillen is the favorite in a field of seven.

St. Mary Wins Over Trinity in Church Playoff

St. Mary No. 1 rocked Trinity, 9-3, for the last round championship of the Church League in a play-off tilt Monday night at Garfield Park.

Tonight, Carl's Auto Parts meets K & W Plumbers for the last round title of the Commercial League at Garfield Par.

Norris held Trinity hitless and scoreless for the first five frames as his team mates banged out six hits and gave him an eight-run margin.

The winners were goose-egged in only one inning, the fourth, scoring twice in the first, once in the second, twice in the third, three times in the fifth and once more in the sixth.

Trimmer hurled for the losing Trinity club, surrendering a total of seven safeties. Norris touched for three hits in each of the final two innings. Trinity marked up two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to break the shutout.

Richards and Berridge collected two hits each for the winners Trinity's six safeties were scattered among six players.

St. Mary's win meant it would play Epworth, first round Church League champs, for the league championship next Tuesday. The nightcap will have Smitty's All-Stars, first round Commercial League champs, meeting the winner of tonight's clash between Carl's Auto Parts and K & W Plumbers.

State, Cities Act To Abolish Slums

CHICAGO (UP)—The nation's attack on slums has been stepped up since the first of the year, the National Association of Housing Officials reports.

Illinois and Maryland have given cities new laws to get tough on run-down areas Cities in other states are setting up their own programs.

At Trenton, N. J., Wilmington, N C, and Los Angeles, new minimum housing codes have been adopted and crack-downs on law violations stepped up.

Similar laws are being considered in Houston, Tex, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Gary, Ind, and Pittsburgh, the association says.

Illinois allows cities to set up housing conservation commissions with the right to condemn property and buy, sell or lease real estate to enforce over-all plans for city improvement.

Chicago has set up its own city commission on neighborhood conservation, only city in the country so far to recognize conservation of housing standards as a separate aspect of slum-fighting, the association adds.

In Detroit, the city council has provided $50,000 for the city plan commission to finance a neighborhood rehabilitation program.

The real estate board in the Norfolk-Portsmouth, Va, area has started a project to show how slums can be prevented. A city block has been set aside to show how basically good buildings can be kept liveable and improved by repairs and renovations.

Oldster, 99, Promises To Reach Century Mark

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (UP)—William Griffith, 99, has promised he'll have a birthday party on his 100th anniversary next July 6.

His 99th birthday was just another day. "I've been smoking since I was 12," he said, "and any time I wanted a drink, I took it. But I haven't had one now in a long, long time."

NO BETTER PLACE

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—The manager of a supermarket asked two customers if he could be of any help after watching them load their grocery carts to the brim in an hour-long shopping spree "Oh, no," replied the two eight-year-old girls. "We're just playing store."

Maurice Kykenda, former assistant starter at Monmouth Park, starts the thoroghbreds at Mexico City's Hpodromo de as Americas track
